Your partner in every step of achieving certified renewable energy

Define your goals

We collaborate with you to set clear targets and goals for your energy sustainability journey.

Assess your energy needs

We thoroughly review your energy consumption and market options to find the best fit.

Tailor EAC recommendations to your goals

We recommend the most suitable EACs to match your needs and objectives.

Manage the procurement process

We manage the procurement process, negotiating with vendors to secure the best terms and value for you.

Types of EACs

Energy Attribute Certificates (EACs) vary based on the type of renewable energy and the region. Leveraging our extensive knowledge of different EAC types and global markets, we'll help you navigate these complexities with confidence.

Guarantees of Origin (GO)

Renewable Energy Guarantees of Origin (REGO)

Green Gas Certificates (GGC)

Renewable Energy Certificates (REC)

International Renewable Energy Certificates (IREC)

What alternatives are there to EACs?

For companies with ambitious sustainability goals, a Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) offers a direct way to support new or existing renewable energy projects. PPAs allow organisations with high energy demands to secure renewable energy over a contracted period of 1-20 years. Redshaw Advisors can help navigate the complexities of PPAs and find the right supplier to meet your energy needs.
